Explanation:

Word Rumble: Inside each child's homework book is a list of words for their reading level.

Select 10 - 15 words from the Homework book list. Do the same words for 2 days in a row, then do the next 10-15 words.

Write them in large writing one at a time onto paper. Say the word, child to say the word after you. Child to then write the word, copying from your paper.

Story: If it is at all possible read a story to your child. It can be a book of their selection. The more pictures that are in the book the better. If your child selects the same book for you to read that is OK. They are probably processing the words and language coming from the discussions. Talk to your child about all the different things in the illustrations. Give them time to look at each page as you read and have short discussions about what they see.

For extension you can use the words "I wonder....", "I think", to see if you can get more language from your child or you can add more language to the word bank.

Writing: It would be great if your child could write every day about an everyday experience eg, making the bed, jumping on the trampoline, a funny moment with the family, a sad moment with the family, finding snails in the garden, including a thought or feeling. You could write letters to a friend or family member too!

Start off with an illustration, then they talk about the illustration with you, then write about that illustration. They can take their time with the illustration and use colour. The stories can be kept and sent to school. We will select a few good stories from each child and publish a "Lock Down" classroom book. Monday: Disaster bubble. Write of a time when some disaster happened eg: the milk bottle dropped on the cat, the baby dropped mums phone in the bath, you tripped, Tuesday: what did you see on your walk? Wednesday: Room hunt: Collect 4 items from your room and then write what where you found them, eg under, on, in, beside. Thursday: Movie Watch: write about what movie you watched this week, who is in the movie, what made it funny, sad, who had to run, hide, who cried? Friday: Write who you would add to your bubble if you could why? Who are they? What would you do with them when you see them. ?

Talk, draw, write, practice sounding out the first letter sounds and last sound of the words they are writing.

Phonics: There is a phonics chart in each child's homework book. Each letter of the alphabet has a name and a sound. We start with e.g. A makes an a sound, ants on the apple, a,a,a,

Handwriting: Choose a letter each day to practice writing, use junk mail to find that letter and circle it. Find things around the home that start with that letter. Write your letter out 5 times on a line. https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=9_WazhKOe8Y Casey the Caterpillar. Write a word that starts with that letter, then one that has it in the middle, then one that has it at the end eg; bat, Corbin, cub.

Mathematics: Daily practice on number recognition from 1 - 10, 20-30 or 50-100 is important. Daily number writing from 1 - 10 is important as well.

Count my toy cars, lego, dolls, socks in my drawer, my Teddys, pots in the cupboard, shoes in the family There are many ways of counting in the home, count all the pillows, curtains in each room then add them up, how many do you have altogether?, Count all the cupboards in the house. How many pieces of bread do we need for everyone to have a sandwich for lunch? Help make the shopping list this week.

If your child can already recognise numbers from 1-10 then they will continue on with recognizing numbers from 1 -20 then 2-30. Asking questions such as what number comes before.. or what number comes after .. or what number comes in between .. and .. will inform you whether or not your child really does know how to count from 1 - 20 or 50- 100 confidently.

Activity: Make a fire safety exit plan. Draw the plan, then see how quickly you can commando crawl to all of the exits in your house. Time it to see if you can better your time or those in your family.

Reading:

This is time for your child to read. Discuss the story with them, who are the characters in the story, what do you think would happen next . This helps them to think about what they are reading. If you have your login for sunshine classics that's great.
